INTRODUCTION :

Extremely expressive and absolutely unforgiving, the works of Jim Peiffer (*1987) show a form of composition in which the artist is subject or actor. The object is sometimes present, sometimes absent from the image. He paints and draws with different techniques (pencils, acrylic paint, spray paint, Indian ink or chalk) on wood, canvas or also on various other painting supports. He creates layers of colored pigments that intensify the impression of an accumulation of patterns and figures on the surface of the painting media. Jim Peiffer was born on August 11, 1987, he graduated from the National School of Visual Arts of La Cambre in Brussels.
